FORMER POLICE CHIEF IN BAD

EDWARD S. WHITAKER, OF NEW ORLEANS, CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME.

New Orleans, La., March 20.—Edward S. Whitaker, formerly Chief of Police of New Orleans, was arrested yesterday in his office in the Godaux building, charged with a serious crime involving young girls. The door of his office was broken open by officers, who found Whitaker with two 14-year old girls. Superintendent Agnew, of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, preferred the charges against Whitaker. He stated that six dozen or more girls, ranging from 7 to 14 years of age, have been sitting Whitaker's office. Whitaker was released on $5,000 bond. He denied that he had committed any crime.

Whitaker won notoriety in 1907 when as Chief of Police, he invaded the office of The Morning World with several detectives and "shot up" the place. Whitaker resigned shortly afterwards, and later was sentenced to two months' imprisonment on charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

CAR LOAD OF AUTOS

The car load of autos, three in number, ordered some time ago by Messrs Joe Baker, A. Y. Malone and W. Grant, arrived this morning. A shipment came to these gentlemen several weeks ago but as it will be remembered, they were destroyed by fire in the Dothan yards.

M. J. Jenkins was among the Dothan visitors to Columbia Sunday afternoon.

BIKE AND AUTO COLLIDE.

A serious accident came near happening late yesterday afternoon when an auto being driven by Mr. D. S. Williams collided with a bicycle being ridden by O. L. Wyatt, the tailor. The auto was coming around the corner and the two met by the side of the First National Bank building, the collision throwing Mr. Wyatt to the ground and painfully bruising him about the body.

He was picked up by Mr. Williams and placed in the auto and taken home. He is unable to be at his shop today, but his injuries, which are about the legs, are not considered serious.

Those witnessing the accident declare it to be an accident.

FRANKLIN NOTES.

The Franklin Society met Monday morning and carried out a very interesting program.

Mr. B. F. Green rendered a speech which was enjoyed by all.

The debate, "Resolved That Cook Deserves More Credit for Discovering the North Pole than Perry," was won by the negative. John Hillson made the best speech.

The debate and declamation contest Friday night was decided three to one in favor of the Franklins.

BOOKER WASHINGTON LAID UP BY FIGHT

UNABLE TO APPEAR IN COURT TODAY TO PUSH CASE AGAINST ULRICH. N. Y. STIRRED UP.

It is said that many prominent men offered sympathy to Booker T. Washington yesterday for the mixup he got into the night before with Albert Ulrich, first reported as a janitor, and then as a carpenter and dog fancier.

Andrew Carnegie telephoned over and offered his services. Many other prominent men of New York City extended condolences to the distinguished educator from Tuskegee.

Booker Washington evidently got into the wrong house, and caused the occupants to think he was up for trouble.

The telegraph account says:

Attorney Smith, who represented Washington, told Magistrate Cornell that his client had eleven wounds and that one of the wounds had caused hemorrhage of the ear.

Ulrich Granted Bail.

A short affidavit was made then by Policeman Tierney, who brought Ulrich to court, and on this the prisoner was held in $1,500 bail. A bond was furnished for Ulrich's appearance in court and he was released.

Washington, who went to his apartments at the Hotel Manhattan, after having his wounds dressed, told the police that he had received a letter from his secretary saying that D. C. Smith, the auditor of Tuskegee Institute, of which Washington is the head, was in New York and desired to see him.

Washington Explains.

"This letter said Mr. Smith was stopping with a cousin, giving the name and address," said Washington. "On Sunday I attended church services twice and after speaking at one church in the evening I recalled the letter concerning Smith and decided to look him up. I discovered that I had left the letter at the hotel, but though I could recall the name as something like Moore and the address being in West Sixty-third Street. I went there and began to look on the letter boxes in the halls on the different houses, seeking the name of Mr. Smith's cousin. It was while thus engaged that I was attacked."

Ulrich, in an interview with his lawyers and others in court today, said:

Ulrich Gives His Side.

"About 9 o'clock last night my wife took one of our dogs into the street. We live on the ground floor of the house No. 11 1-2 West Sixty-third Street. When she returned she said she had seen a negro in the hall and that he spoke to her. Mr. and Mrs. Ravette and Mrs. Knowles, friends of ours, were in the house at the time. I went out and saw a man in the hall. The man went out of the vestibule door ahead of me when I came out."

Ulrich said he saw the negro re-enter the hall way and later saw him "bending down at my door peering through the keyhole." Ulrich said that the negro swung a blow at his jaw when he asked him what he wanted, and that then he went after the negro, who fell twice in his efforts to escape.

Mike and Abe Saliba and mother, and Charlie Brown and family of this city, and Sam Saliba, of Ozark, left last night for New York, where they will sail for their old home in Syria. Mr. Brown and family will return to this country about September, but it is not yet known whether or not the Salibas will return.

ULRICH GETS HELP FROM DOLHAN

$25 TELEGRAPHED TO THE GERMAN, WHO GAVE DRUBBING TO BOOKER T.

When it was reported that Albert Ulrich, a German janitor in New York, had mauled Booker Washington night before last, and got in jail, the American Janitors of Dothan assembled and voted a fund of $25 for Ulrich's benefit.

The people didn't consider the merits of the case, but knew that Ulrich was in bad for tackling a man of the color and prominence of Washington, and having to go before a New York judge for trial.

The money was telegraphed to the Associated Press today, with instructions to turn it over to Ulrich, to be applied on his fine or expenses incident to the case, but this great news gathering agency got an attack of cold feet and refused to handle the money. It was then telegraphed direct to Ulrich, who will probably need it.

LOST PEOPLE

ARE CONFIDENT

J. E. McCants passed through the city today en route to his home in Hartford from Montgomery, where he has been in interest of the movement to get the court house of Geneva county moved to Hartford from Geneva.

Mr. McCants and Mr. J. R. Alford, who have been in Montgomery for several days to present to the governor a jointly signed petition from the voters of Geneva county, asking that the court house be moved to Hartford.

He states that the Hartford people are confident that the governor will call an election, and in the event he does, are confident of winning the fight.

Sanborn, according to his statement, has now taken sides with Hartford and will work with that place during the fight.

"DOTHAN NEEDS SUCH A MAN."

The Dothan Home Journal prints this morning a short article regarding Hon. Bob Newman coming to Dothan, but devoting more space to a criticism of Dothan banks than to the subject in hand. We copy the following full paragraph: "A bank without money to loan and a bank with a confidence in Dothan's future a bank with money sufficient to foster any enterprise that a man could be found to manage; a bank financially able to do more than a short loan business would do well in Dothan and is one of Dothan's greatest needs."

The editor of the Home Journal evidently displays his lack of knowledge of BANKING, though he may have had some experience with SHORT LOANS. "A bank without money to loan;" they all have it to loan when the collateral is first class and it is good business. A bank that would "Poster any enterprise that a man can be found to manage" would never succeed and Dothan needs no such bank. SHORT LOANS is the banking rule the world over; one to four months loans being the rule, and rarely one for longer than six months at the outside. Banks are not supposed to furnish the CAPITAL for various enterprises, but imply short time accommodations, to be repaid when due, so that they can accommodate the "next enterprise."

Dothan has more banking capital of its size than any place in the State, or $100.00 of Banking Capital to every man, woman and child here; the Magic City of Birmingham having less than half that per capita.

Few towns have as handsome bank buildings as Dothan, showing that the Dothan Banks do not lack confidence in the future of Dothan, and you will find their stockholders interested in most of the "enterprise" of Dothan and pushing forward night.

for the welfare of the entire town. We welcome Mr. Newman and all others who will help in the up-building of Dothan and Houston Counties. Respectfully, STOCKHOLDER.

TROY HAS A HARMON SKIRT.

Although no "attractive young female" has yet appeared on the street and was forced to duck into some large apartment house from a howling mob because she wore a harmon skirt, as is usually the case when one is introduced into a city, Troy has one of the latest fads, and the Messenger is setting up a big howl over the matter. No one is wearing it, of course, but there is one there and being unable to get a model to appear in it the representative of the Troy daily made an attempt to get his feet through the "tremor" department of the garment but failed in disgust.

The Messenger seems to think that it is a sensational affair for "staid old Troy," as he terms it, to jump at this late idea from Paris, and perhaps his idea runs along the same channel with the former Trojans who have moved to Dothan and whose minds still bear a picture of the same "staid old Troy."

LYCEUM ATTRACTION GOOD.

The Fisher Shipps Concert Company at the Elite theatre last night was the best and one of the best of the course which has been giving the entertainments here during the winter under the auspices of Class 25 of the Foster Street Methodist Sunday School.

Each of the performers were high musicians and entertainers in many other ways. The audience was delighted with the program and the splendid rendition of it.

The Democratic members of congress are hanging around Washington, putting things in shape like an old maid looking for a visitor

The most popular speech Bryan has made in years was uttered the other day in Chicago. He said he wouldn't run for president any more

The worst thing we have discovered about this safe and sane movement is the keen disappointment among the members who didn't get what they expected.

The little rain we had stimulated the garden seed, and many dealers showed up with great bundles of tomato plants, which sold like hot cakes. It won't be but a few weeks before the tomato and potato bug will come into his own.

TRYING TO PUT ONE OVER

Some blushing young literary person, in the first stages of writer's hell, sat down to the task of a sewing machine the other day and copied from the works of a well known author one of the snatchingest articles that has been submitted to the Eagle in a year. In the veritable school girl hand, with a few caps and many squiggles, she copied it almost word for word, and then put in a few words at the bottom, which we recognized as the only original thing about the piece, except the name and address.

That is not the first time we have been asked to print some author or lecturer's stuff, over the name of some person who thinks to get one over on their own hook.

The Eagle's Literary Editor has a weakness for accumulating books and remembering just little in them, save the general style of the authors, and five days in the week out of six some well known author's stuff might pass muster as the work of another. But on the sixth day, the style might be detected, when it would only be necessary to pull down a volume or two and locate the exact chapter from which the article was copied.

Using even a part of the works of an artist, thoroughly mixed with original matter of a beginner, is like patching a last year's hickory shirt with pink flannels, or putting a jute bagging collar, hay-wire traces and rope laces on a pair of Kentucky thoroughbreds to harness to an afternoon rig used to ride company out in.

The blendings are easily detected, as they come from an experienced hand. There are writers who can twist the thought and gist of another in such a way as to make it almost new, but there are few.

REMEMORING

Speaker Almon, after he put Governor J. Lee, got the frowns of Governor O'Neal. The governor owed Hon. J. Lee a good deal bigger debt than he did Judge Almon, and when J. Lee went down, the governor picked up his nose glasses and adjusted them to take a look at Almon.

When he had satisfied himself that it was Judge Almon who had ridden over the administrative candidate, he began to cast about for things to throw that way.

As near as he could, he has opposed every measure that Speaker Almon stood for.

Judge Almon has stood by the newspapers of the state like a man, but it was through his friendship for the papers that caused the editors to take a long sleep.

When the Legislature met, and when he received his reward in the way of a regular job at the hands of the governor and retired to look over, the matter came up and passed both houses like it was greased.

For a bill to go through like this, with the endorsement of Speaker Almon, it would mean that Speaker Almon would get the credit for it. The editors might feel thankful over the matter, and make much of Almon, who in turn might give the governor and his friend, J. Lee, some political trouble in the future. You must remember that J. Lee was regarded as the Speaker of the House, before the voting came off, and the finest kind of gubernatorial timber. When the dust settled, he jumped at the job the governor handed him, and the papers thought Almon had a future. Too many luminaries loomed up on the political hill-side.

As we have remarked before, Governor O'Neal might do very well if he can get some of his friends off his hands.

By a certain method he is doing away with some of them.

He is totally disregarding some few friends who are really factors in their community, to follow the advice of his private and personal cabinet, Colonel Bowman and Jesse Stallings.

The governor cannot see how any other two men in Alabama had as much to do with his becoming governor as these two stand-bys did.

There are men in South Alabama and some in Dothan, whose advice was sought, by mail, by long distance telephone, and by telegraph, when the campaign was waxing hot, but the governor hasn't bothered them since with councils and caucuses. It is even said that he looks the other way and sneezes, when they try to get a line on his ear, and apologizes for catching fresh cold from the ever-open door of his private office.

The governor feels that he did a wise thing when he let the information leak from his office that no other appointments would be made till the legislature adjourned. Probably hopes to be able to make his own selections by that time, without having some of his pet measures threatened or held up.

Probably no administration since the war has made a more open attempt to build up a political ring around itself than the present one. The game is comparatively new yet, but we predict almost as much criticism during the next few months as Comer ever got in his palmiest days. Too many people were promised anything they suggested, or thought they wanted, at a time when the fair name of Alabama was threatened at the hands of lot of fanatics, for all of those promises to be realized. The men to whom they were made—many of them—will not take their punishment from the hands of the governor without some back talk. Some back talk that will make Walker Percy's lecture read like a Sunday school address.

But to have some real fun, we would like to see that scrappy part of the legislature get through a bill abolishing the office of bank tax commissioner, especially in Jefferson county. With that threat over the governor's head, he would compromise for the sake of peace, before he would let them throw Bowman back on his hands, without a job.

HOW THEY MIMLED THEM

The people of Alabama tired of tyranny, and turned to a leader who promised safe and sane measure.

They had been trying to live under two Comer administrations, and had begun to think they would never live it down.

The laws that no previous administration ever passed caused so much dissatisfaction and uprising among the people as some of the Comer laws did.

It would have been fair to have given the Comer crowd credit for getting in a good law now and then, but they were cussed for all of them.

Any law on the book that was known to be a Comer administration measure, was slated for the knife when safe and sane folks once got in power again.

It took a while, that the statutes would be laid out on a table in the middle of the room and repealed, as a whole, and some new ones written in accord with modern sentiment and present needs.

Now, patient reader, you have been reading the proceedings, just start at the first and check off the Comer laws that have been repealed.

You need not count on the whiskey laws, for as you know, the people left home to fix those laws.

Naturally, they are repealed so as to meet the needs of the politicians of the state, and a whole parcel of people besides. But outside of the whiskey laws, where does the present administration begin tearing off the stripes of the old laws?

In their failure to repeal those obnoxious laws they virtually endorse

The old soldier was to come in for special consideration when the present legislators got going.
So far, other matters have claimed their attention, and the old soldier, provided he is drawing a pension, may ride on a pass, provided the railroads will give it to him, and provided further that he has a consuming desire to travel, in his old age.
It will be but a few months when the last pension quarter will come due, with the usual short quarter. Then we will hear some other stuff that we had given previous warning of.

KANSAS WOMAN HELPLESS
Lawrence, Kan.—Mr. J. P. Stone, of this city, says, "My wife suffered for ten years from womanly troubles, during two years of which she was totally helpless. She was examined by many physicians, some of whom gave her up for dead. Finally she began to take Cardui, and since then has greatly improved in health. The tonic, strengthening, and restorative effects of Cardui, the woman's tonic, on the womanly constitution, are the most valuable qualities of this popular medicine. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Half a century of success proves that Cardui will do all that is claimed for it. Try it for your trouble." 12

CALOMEL SOMETIMES CAUSES SALIVATION

Dodson's Liver-Tone Has All the Medicinal Properties of Calomel with None of the Dangerous After Effects.

You can get along without taking calomel yourself or giving it to your family when you can buy a substitute for it as good as Dodson's Liver-Tone. Dodson's Liver-Tone is a pure harmless vegetable liquid that starts the liver to action just as surely as calomel does. But, unlike calomel, Dodson's Liver-Tone does not stimulate the liver too much. It cures constipation gently instead of making you more bilious than you were at first, and it can no more salivate you than a tablespoonful of maple syrup can salivate you.

Dodson's Liver-Tone has given such perfect satisfaction to every person to whom Nix Drug Company has sold a bottle that this store will give the money back to any person who buys a bottle and does not find it a perfect substitute for calomel. It is worth something to you to try a medicine with a guarantee like that.

SOLDIERS CALLED TO EWE STINKERS

THOUSAND FOREIGN MINERS ON THE WARRATH, IN ILLI-NOIS TOWN

Benld, Ill., March 21.—The arrival of the state militia here today found this mining town quiet. The miners, who have been bearing arms for several days, suddenly left for one of the nearby mining camps. Their departure was heralded by the beating of drums, shouting and firing of guns. The troops from Springfield were first on the ground, and these were followed by the state militia from Danville.

Gillespie, Ill., March 21.—One thousand strong and well armed, the foreign-speaking coal miners of Benld, Ill., conducted a sunrise demonstration today against their English speaking brethren of the town of Gillespie, commanding those who stood upon the sidewalks to fall in line.

The procession came from Benld, stopped in at Mine No. 1, passed through the main street of Gillespie, thence on to Mine No. 2 and back into Benld.

Caution of the older citizens and business men of Gillespie against violence probably prevented bloodshed.

ELEVEN GIRLS TESTIFY AGAINST WHITAKER

New Orleans, March 21.—According to the police three more little girls today made statements against Edward Stanley Whitaker, former police inspector, under arrest on the charge of sodomy, making a total of eleven complaints.

One little girl said her aunt carried her to Whitaker's office and left her alone with him. Whitaker was unable to make $15,000 bond. He will be arraigned tomorrow.

TRY TO PROVE WASHINGTON GUILTY AS "PEEPING TOM."

New York, March 21.—In case Booker T. Washington, the educator, is able to leave his room today he will presumably be in the West Hyde Court this afternoon to press his charge of assault against Henry Albert Ulrich, whose wife, says Washington, accosted her, and this in spite of a conference of some length between Willford Smith, Washington's attorney, and Jas. I. Moore, who is acting for Ulrich.

The conference was held at Mr. Moore's office and at its conclusion Mr. Smith said there was nothing to announce and that the case would be called in court at 2 o'clock, so far as he knew.

"The case will go on today," said attorney Moore.

Up at the Ulrich home they were indignant because Police Lieutenant Quinn has refused to allow a charge of illegal entry to be made against Washington, while he had entertained the latter's charge against Ulrich. The latter said that his lawyers had decided to endeavor again to lodge the charge against the negro educator.

This hinges on whether Ulrich and the Revettes fellow-lessees of the state, can prove their contention that Washington was seen in side the hallway of the building looking through the keyhole of the Ulrich flat. It was in this position Ulrich told the police lieutenant Sunday night that he found Washington, when the scuffle started.

Received No Telegram.

The most interesting development of the case concerns the mysterious Auditor Smith and the telegram which defective eared newspaper men understood Washington to say he had received before he set out on his quest for the auditor. There wasn't any telegram, it now transpires, nor any Auditor Smith any nearer than Tuskegee. Concerning the "telegram," Washington had this to say:

"I received no letter or telegram from my secretary informing me of his whereabouts of Smith, and who ever claims I said I did has misquoted me. When I left Tuskegee about two weeks ago, I thought that Smith would have finished the work he was doing in about two weeks so I decided to look for him. I carried in my mind that he would be found in the apartment of some acquaintance near the house I visited."

Smith proved to be D. C. Smith, a public accountant at 32 Broadway and who lives at 6 Washington avenue, Mont. Clair, N. J. A caretaker was the only person found there today. He said Smith was in Tuskegee and had been there for a month. He said Smith was a trustee of the institute and knew of no relatives. Smith has in New York. He could conceive of no reason why Smith should be at 141-2 West 63d street, where the assault occurred.

GREENE TELLS HOW HE SPENT FORTUNE.

WORTH $700,000 BEFORE CON-
VICTION, SAYS HE IS A PAUPER NOW.

Atlanta, Ga., March 22.—Admitting that in 1897 he was worth approximately $700,000, but declaring he is without funds today, Benjamin I. Greene yesterday began another fight for release from the clutches of the federal government.

He had appeared before United States Commissioner Walter Colquitt to take the pauper's oath, which would have released him from prison. Assistant United States District Attorney Martin Erwin was on hand to oppose his being allowed to take the oath, setting out that the prisoner had property hidden away at this time.

How He Lost Money

"I have employed in all about 25 lawyers within the past few years," said Greene upon the stand, "and I have paid out in attorneys' fees more than $100,000. I lost over $80,000 in stock speculation, as much more in real estate deals. My wife lost money in the stock market and I made good the losses. My living expenses for a number of years were unusually high."

Greene was sent to the stand within a very few minutes after the hearing before Commissioner Colquitt began and for more than three hours Assistant District Attorney Erwin pilled him with most searching questions as to expenditures and business transactions extending over a period of over ten years. Not once, however, did the witness waver in the story he was telling of the losses accumulated to eat up a large fortune and when the day's session was over the general opinion was that Greene had a little more than held his own up to that point.

LATER VISIT OF STORK

SHE WENT TO POLICE

and Presented the Present That Had Been Made to Her

Chicago, March 21.—Mrs. Sarah Hughes, 29 years old, walking into the Heering street police station here today within an hour after the stork had visited her, as she walked through an alley, and presenting her child to the startled eyes of the police sergeant asked to be cared for. She was taken to the county hospital.

Mrs. Hughes, who said her home was in Sullivan, Ind., but that she had been working in a restaurant here, at first told the police the child was three days old, but later, unwrapping it from the towel and shawl which covered it, she admitted the baby was less than one hour old.

County hospital nurses said later neither the mother nor the daughter would suffer from their harsh experience.

WRECK BLOCKS TRACK

AT WEST TROY

At an early hour last night a freight train on the Coast Line at West Troy jumped the track and although the wreck was not a serious one, it has caused much traffic to block.

Train 53 due to arrive in the city last night at 10:49 did not reach the city until late today and train 130 due to arrive in Dothan at 10:20 today did not arrive until after noon.

No one was injured in the wreck and the main damage done was the blocking of the traffic.

MRS. W. E. MEAD

Mrs. W. E. Mead, of Fountain, Fla., died here in a local infirmary last night of pellagra.

Mrs. Mead had been suffering with the dreaded malady for several weeks and was said to be in the last stages when she was brought to Dothan Monday night.

She is survived by her husband, and is a daughter of Mr. T. W. Wright, of Atlanta, who arrived in the city this morning to attend the funeral.

The funeral will take place this afternoon and interment will be made in the city cemetery.

PEACE WANTED WITH ALL WORLD

SAYS DICKINSON IN LETTER TO A CONFEDERATE
VETERAN

Washington, March 21.—Declaration of the pacific intentions of the administration toward all the world and tribute to the braver and self-sacrifices of the South are the features of a letter addressed by Secretary of War J. M. Dickinson, himself a Southerner, to an organization of Confederate veterans in Fort Worth, Texas, which offered its service as infantry to our common country.

The offer came under date of March 17 from the Fort Worth Confederate Grays, the letter stating that by unanimous vote the organization had directed its officers to tender service for duty as United States soldiers on the Mexican border, or in any other capacity, as volunteers in the present crisis, involving the welfare of our common country.

"You know what we were in the sixties," the letter concludes, "and we are still imbued with the same spirit."

At Peace with All the World

"We are at peace with all the world," Secretary Dickinson says. Our record in the movement looking toward the maintenance of peace with other nations and the adjustment of international differences by arbitration and similar methods, rather than by resort to arms, is based upon a fixed policy that will, as I believe, be departed from for us to become involved in war there would have to be some unjustifiable wrong perpetrated upon us by some other nation."

The secretary says that even in such event arbitration undoubtedly would be invoked, adding, that "the attitude of the president in regard to peace movements is such that he will not permit, as far as he can, our government to become involved in hostilities with any other government."

The letter continues:

It is nevertheless gratifying to us and for the peace of the world, that a disposition is shown by those who are reckless of the general welfare of mankind to stimulate by false statements and evil suggestions distrust and jealousies between nations. Such things have in former times brought on wars, but I believe that there is a stronger corrective now, in public opinion of such influences than has ever hitherto existed, and they will be impotent now where hitherto they might have been effective.

Glad Confederates Are Patriots

It is nevertheless gratifying to have this manifestation of patriotism from Confederate veterans. This, however, was not needed to convince me that the United States would have no more loyal supporters than the people of the South in any crisis involving the welfare of our common country. You gave an illustration to the world of the long and constant sacrifice that the people of the South were willing to make in sustaining a cause to which they gave their support. No adversity and no losses availed to make them waver, to abandon their cause. The sacrifice of life and property was made without stint or reserve and the end came only with complete exhaustion of resources.

"This will stand as an illustrious example to the people of our country if a period of storm and stress should ever come, and will be pointed to to stimulate them to meet adversity and not be constrained by pecuniary losses to disturbances of business or destruction of commerce, to make a peace without honor."

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tennille left this afternoon for Bainbridge, and will return tomorrow morning. They went on an automobile.

SEARCH OF MRS. HULL AND HER DAUGHTER

STATEMENT REGARDING THE MATTER BY TREASURY DEPARTMENT

Washington, March 21.—Publicity marking the search of the baggage of Mrs. Joseph W. Hull and her daughter, of Savannah, Ga., on board the steamer Lusitania, by customs officials at New York, on March 17, and the criticism of the action of the customs officer was the cause of an official statement on the case, made by the treasury department today.

"The department was advised," the statement says, "that some member or members of the party would attempt to pass certain personal effects through the customs house without the payment of duty, and consequently directions were given for the careful examination of the baggage. This examination disclosed the fact that there had been omitted from their declarations over $600 worth of dutiable merchandise."

"In accordance with the law applicable in such cases, seizure of the undeclared articles was made and forfeiture will be completed."
